

Estella's Pet Sitting Service

I adopted Sammie, a Sheltie, about a year ago. When it was time to take a vacation, I checked the local Pet Hotel but was just not comfortable putting Sammie in a 6' x 9' cage for a week.

Then, Estella started her pet sitting business. She had fostered Sammie so I thought that it would be the perfect place to leave him. And, it has been. There is no question in my mind that her place should be Sammie's place whenever I go out of town.

Estella does a great job of caring for her pets and she will do the same for yours. They will be much happier roaming her house with some doggie friends than stuck in a cage at a Pet Hotel or left to roam alone at home.
